TYPES OF THREATS
Direct Identifies a very specific target. Straightforward, clear and explicit "I am going home and getting my AK47 and will even the score" am going nome and getting my Ak4/ and will even the score Indirect
More vague, unclear and ambiguous. Hard to identify the plan, victim, etc I know where you live
• Veiled	•
Able to be understood yet expressed in a way that is not clear and direct, it is disguised
Strongly implies but does not specifically threaten violence You know, I was trained to kill in the military
Conditional
If certain things happen or do not happen, violence will ensue If I lost my job, I would come back here and even the score

- To alter the behavior of someone before they take action, you must change the direction of their actions
- Employee who has a history of angry responses
- Everyone says, "Oh, that's just Walter. He is just like that"
- Walter's behavior needs to be confronted.
- You need to put a tree in the middle of the road that they are traveling so they cannot continue on in the direction they have been going. It takes them out of control.

TYPE 4 VIOLENCE - PERSONAL RELATIONSHIP

- Violence committed in the workplace by someone who doesn't work there, but has a personal relationship with an employee—an abusive spouse or domestic partner
- Greatest exposure is in situations where the workplace is easily accessed by outsiders
- Organization may be able to assist if the person at risk notifies someone within the office and the information reaches management

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

- Domestic violence is a pattern of behavior in which one intimate partner uses physical violence, coercion, threats, intimidation, isolation and emotional, sexual or economic abuse to control the other partner in a relationship - FBI
- Domestic violence is all about control
- Phases of domestic violence
 - Mental obsession
 - Surveillance
 - Harassment
 - Elimination

VICTIM INTERVENTION

- Employees facing domestic threats may tend to confide most easily in coworkers, rather than supervisors, managers or an organization's security force
- Be aware if you notice something with someone you work with, ask respectfully
- Organization may need to get involved even if the victim doesn't want help
- · Harassing visits or phone calls
- Refer the employee for emotional, legal, or financial counseling, either through the organization's own employee assistance structure or from outside practitioners, (e.g., AWAIC)

		AVIOR

- Tardiness or unexplained absences
- Frequent-and often unplanned-use of leave time
- Change in job performance
- Tendency to remain isolated from coworkers or reluctance to participate in social events
- Discomfort when communicating with others
- Disruptive phone calls or email
- Disruptive visits from current or former intimate partner
- Acting uncharacteristically moody, depressed, or distracted
- Sudden or unexplained requests to be moved from public locations in the workplace, such as sales or reception areas
- Noticeable change in use of makeup (to cover up injuries)
- Inappropriate clothes (e.g., sunglasses worn inside the building, turtleneck worn in the summer)
- Sudden changes of address or reluctance to divulge where he/she is staying
- Being the victim of vandalism or threats
- Lack of concentration

TYPE 5 VIOLENCE – ACT	IVE SHOOTER
-----------------------	-------------

- 160 active shooter incidents have occurred between 2000 and 2013
 - 84 events happened between 2000 and 2010
 76 events happened between 2010 and 2013
 - Frequency is increasing
 - Businesses most frequently attacked (37%), followed by schools (34%) and public venues (17%)

ACTI	VF	SH	റ	TF	7 R

- The average active-shooter incident lasts 12 minutes
 - 37% less than 5 minutes
- With 43% of incidents, the crime is over before police arrive
- In 41 cases where the situation resolved before the police arrived, 16 cases the shooter was stopped by potential victims
- In 57% of the shootings, an officer arrives while the shooting is still underway
- Overwhelmingly, the offender is a single shooter (98%) and primarily male (97%)
- · Patrol officers are most likely responding alone or with a partner.
- When responding alone, 75% had to take unilateral action
- A third of those officers who enter the incident alone are shot by the intruder

TA/LIAT	ORGANI7	ATIONIC	CANIDO

- Obtain Senior Management support
 - Develop and implement a workplace violence policy and plan
- Each plan must be developed in relation to the needs that have been identified within that specific location. You cannot simply implement a plan that was developed somewhere else
- Have a physical assessment done of your facility
- A plan should be proactive in nature, not just reactive. Include prevention as well as response
- Have a number of individuals from around the organization participate in developing your workplace program. The plan will get better exposure and buy-in
- Communicate the program to all employees

SITUATIONAL AWARENESS

- Workplace violence can affect anyone in any work setting across all levels
- Know work environment well enough to know when things change
- Where is the nearest exit?
- Preparation
 - Take responsibility for your own safety
 - What would you do?
- Rehearsal
 - Mental walk through
 - Look for exits or hiding places
 - Reduces response times
